

Fact: Tax policies affect investment decisions.
It's time for a change.

Work Together. WIN Together.

TESTIFY BEFORE SENATE FINANCE: Tuesday, March 12, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

TELL THE STATE SENATE: ACT NOW ON OIL TAX REFORM!

Members of the Senate Finance committee will take what is likely their last round of public testimony on Senate Bill 21, the current Senate bill addressing oil tax reform, on Tuesday, March 12, between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Please present brief testimony at your local Legislative Information Office (LIO) urging legislators to make meaningful policy changes this session to attract new investment and increase North Slope production. For a list of LIO locations click here.

Time is of the essence for making real changes to Alaska's oil tax structure if the oil production decline curve is ever going to stabilize or turn around. Just last year, North Dakota surpassed Alaska in oil production, and California is likely to pass us by the end of this year. In times of high oil prices and an oil "renaissance" happening elsewhere in the country, this development should be unacceptable for a state that relies on a healthy oil industry to keep the economy strong.

Daily Oil Production in the Top Four U.S. Oil-Producing States (2002–2012)

AOGA supports the governor and legislature's attempts to make substantive changes to the oil tax regime that will encourage new oil production in Alaska. Now, it's your turn to let policy makers know that status quo decline is not an option, and that urgency is the order of the day.

For the latest updates on the oil tax discussion happening in Juneau, visit www.aoga.org/fix-aces-now.

You also can follow AOGA on facebook and twitter.